

A person saw Abu Hafs Kaaghadi (rahimahullah) in a dream after his demise and enquired from him as to what had transpired? He replied: "Allah had mercy on me, forgave my sins and admitted me into paradise". On asking him the reason for that, he answered: "When I appeared before Allah Ta'ala, the angels were commanded to count my durood as well as my sins. It turned out that my durood outnumbered my sins. Hence my Lord commanded: "O angels, let that be enough, let there be no further reckoning and take him into my Paradise". (Al Qaulul-Badee' pg 259)

Lesson: Abundance of durood assures safety and salvation both in this world as well as the next.
