

In times of difficulty and hardship, it is easy to lose hope and fall into despondency, especially when the suffering is widespread, such as in our current situation. While we cannot control our destiny, we CAN control our perspective. Instead of looking at the thorns with the roses, let us look at the roses with the thorns. This is looking 'On the Bright Side'.

This book has been prepared to lift our spirits, bolster our courage and soothe the pain of our suffering by showing us the Islamic perspective that we should adopt when beset by tragedies and calamities, thus allowing us to open our eyes to these beautiful roses.

Download e-book

Click here for pricing of hard copies and a list of agents and stockists.